

THE ELECTION LANDSCAPE

REFLECTIONS
AND PROJECTIONS:

2022 AND 2024
POLITICAL CYCLES

MARCH 3 | 9:15 A.M. - 3:30 P.M.
EMERSON HALL, ROOM 209

OPEN TO UF FACULTY, STUDENTS AND STAFF

As the 2024
campaign
cycle nears,

we will examine last year's midterm elections for hints of what's to come. Our panelists are experts in politics at the state and federal levels. The morning panel will focus on the 2022 federal midterm and gubernatorial elections, while the afternoon panel will look toward 2024. The discussion will span voter turnout, polling, the impacts of women and African American voters on election results, and more.

HOSTS

Suzanne Robbins, Director, UF Political Campaigning Graduate Certificate Program

Roger Austin, UF Adjunct Faculty

MODERATORS

Joel Mendelson, Strategic Communications Consultant

Alex Patton, Managing Partner, Ozean Media

Q & A AND NETWORKING

sessions to follow

EVENT PANELISTS

Nikki Fried, former Florida Commissioner of Agriculture

Ansley Tuten Mendelson,
VP, Berlin Rosen

Michael D. Cohen, Managing Director, Purple Strategies

Elizabeth Sena, Sr. Partner, Greenberg, Quinlan, Rosner

Andrew Wiggins, Sr. Director, Political Affairs, Florida Chamber of Commerce

Steve Schale, CEO, Unite
the Country

Windy (William) March, Correspondent, 'Tampa Bay Times'

Matthew Binder, Professor, Faculty Director, Public Opinion
Research Lab, UNF

Michael P. McDonald,
Political Science, UF

Sharon Wright Austin, Political Science, UF

UF

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

Liberal Arts and Sciences